

Female BIG HORN SHEEP, which have hair rather than wool, give birth to their lambs on the side of a cliff, which is difficult for predators to access. Only one lamb is born at a time and will stay hidden for protection during the first several weeks.